You need to include ;

- Vivid description of the road you are on and the landscape you are passing through.
- Description of what you see of the accident that has already happened
- Description of the mystery man
- The conversation you had with the man
- Your thoughts and feelings as you drove along
- What happened immediately prior to your accident and what you remember
- How could you give this story a satisfactory ending to give the reader some explanation of what could have happened next.
- This is quite a scary film – I want you to try and get that menace through your piece of writing
